

What is Extent?

Extent is an ERC20 standard token based on the Ethereum network. The Extent project is a multifunctional platform for token creators and their future investors. Extent can benefit both sides - for creators, in extending the number of their project's potential investors, while the Extent token holders can gain access to free automated airdrops.

Short-term

For holders

The platform will enable holders to participate in token airdrops without completing usually required troublesome social tasks, plus secure their private information.

For creators

To create a reliable platform for token creators to get access to, and directly airdrop tokens to a large number of potential investors, with saving resources on marketing campaigns and withdrawing usually involved third-parties. Extent will simplify the process for creators, of reaching out to customers, while increasing the project's awareness.

Long-term

For holders

Custom web-based ERC20 compatible Ethereum wallet.
Current ICO list with professional analysis.

For creators

As a second base, the Extent platform will be an innovative ecosystem providing full support for worthy ideas to come alive. Incubating will involve assistance to deploy a token, get advisory, connect to investors and reach out to future customers. In short Extent will be a "blockchain incubator" for auspicious ideas.